Your pricing at every leverage level

Lower leverage means less risk to the lender - so it earns a lower rate. The table shows the loan amount, cash to close and note rate at each leverage step this scenario supports. The highlighted row is the option you selected; taking less leverage trades a smaller loan for a better rate.

Leverage (LTC)	Loan amount	Cash down	Payment / mo	Note rate
92.3% (maximum)	$360,000	$30,000	$3,450/mo	11.50%
90%	$360,000	$40,000	$3,450/mo	11.50%
85%	$348,535	$61,506	$3,340/mo	11.50%
80%	$327,044	$81,761	$3,134/mo	11.50%
75%	$305,683	$101,894	$2,929/mo	11.50%
70%	$284,449	$121,907	$2,726/mo	11.50%
65%	$263,342	$141,800	$2,524/mo	11.50%

Rates shown are the borrower note rate, interest-only, before third-party closing costs. Origination is 2% of the loan at every level. Final pricing, leverage and proceeds are confirmed at closing and may differ.
